Your Questions Time...

How long does a spray tan last?

A spray tan lasts between 7 to 10 days; its amount of time depends on a lot of factors.

Our advice to you to get the most out of your tan is to exfoliate thoroughly before getting it and then moisturise, moisturise, moisturise after. Chlorine is also a factor in reducing the length of your tan.

Why does my hair seem like it is coming back quicker?

Unfortunately summer causes everybody's hair to grow at a quicker rate, just like the grass!!! Also once every 10 months our body has a hair growth spurt.

I have little pimples on my back what is this?

This question gets asked a lot from my male clients that have never had their back waxed before. The key to reducing what we term as white pimples is aftercare. Gently exfoliate while using a Tea-Tree Wash; this is a perfect balance for clearing this problem up. After your first few back waxes the hair follicle is no longer in a state of shock and this condition is minimal or non existent.
